ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The publishers would like to thank the following for their contributions to this publication:

Lipper, which has provided Fundscape with broad access to its FundFile database. FundFile data underpins much of Fundscape's research and data in this publication.

The Investment Association for its gross and net sales data in both the institutional and retail spheres

Matrix Solutions and its Financial-Clarity database. Matrix collects distribution data from the main UK aggregation channels (insurance companies, platforms and fund managers), and then reconciles the data with its intermediary database, thus providing real flow data through the primary client-facing channels.
